

User Guide

Access

Alerts

Browse

My Reports

Register

Search

Searching across Cambridge content

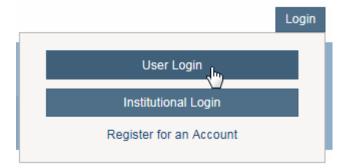

Search results

Sign in

Viewing a case

Sign in

To sign in to Cambridge Law Reports, click the Login button in the top right corner. If you already have a username for Cambridge Journals Online or Cambridge Books Online, you can use this to log in to Cambridge Law Reports. If you do not have a login, please register.

Register

You will only need to register once and this will provide you with access to the My Reports feature. Click on "Register for an Account" on the Login screen, or select "Register" from the top right corner of the screen.

You will be directed to the Cambridge Books Online registration form. The username and password set here can be used for Cambridge Law Reports, Cambridge Books Online and Cambridge Journals Online.

Complete the details in the registration form. The username and password you select must each have a minimum of six characters, are case-sensitive and can be any combination of letters and numbers (e.g. 1xE24tY)

Access

You must be recognised as a user from an institution which has purchased access to Cambridge Law Reports in order to view full-text content. Users with institutional access will be able to view the general features and contents of the site by IP authentication. Users with IP access may register on the site to use the features in the My Reports area.

Cases that you have access to will have a purchase indicator P in the browse and search results. Where you do not have access the first three subjects will display only.

To see a complete list of titles that your institution has access to, click the Access to link in the top right corner of the site.

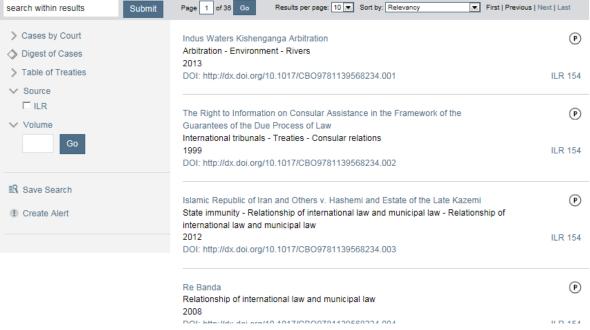

Browse

Access Information:

Select the browse option from the navigation bar to browse all cases. You can filter the list of case reports using the options on the left hand pane.

The browse options reproduce the tables available in our International Law Reports print volumes. Filter by court, keyword or Treaties. If you are logged in, you can save your browse criteria to easily search again by selecting "Save Search" or select "Create Alert" to receive an email notification when new content that matches your criteria is added to the account. Alerts and saved searches can be edited or deleted in the My Reports area.

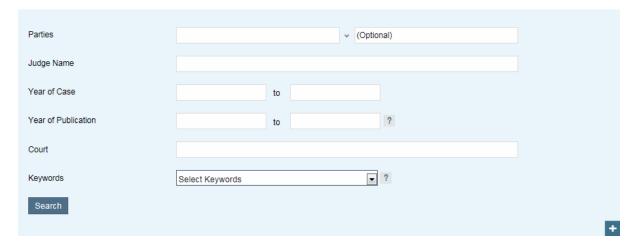

P This icon indicates that your institution has purchased full access. Results per page: 10 ▼ Sort by: Relevancy search within results Page 1 of 36 Go > Cases by Court Indus Waters Kishenganga Arbitration Arbitration - Environment - Rivers

Search

A quick search option is available throughout Cambridge Law Reports in the top right corner of your screen.

Complete the Advanced Search form for a more detailed search, click the cross in the bottom right corner for more search options.

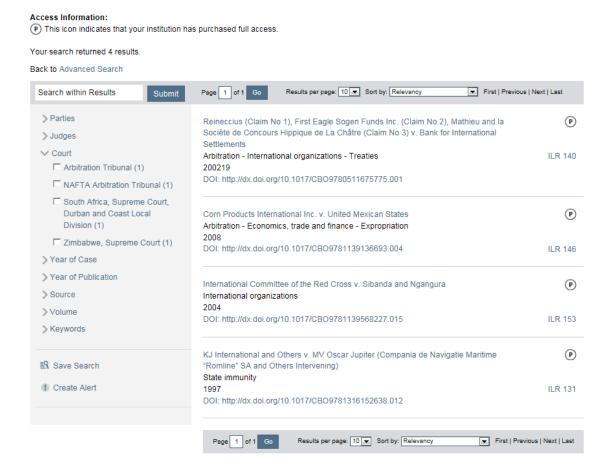

Click the ? symbols for explanations of fields.

Once you have run your search, you can save the criteria to repeat the search in future. Select "Save Search" from the search results screen. Edit or delete saved searches in the My Reports area. You must be logged in to use this function.

Search Results

Select the case you wish to view or refine search results by using the options on the left hand pane.

Navigate back to your most recent search results by selecting the "Search Results" option on the navigation bar. This page will always display the results for your most recent search. When logged in your 5 most recent searches will be available in the My Reports section.

Searching across Cambridge Content

Case reports can also be found in the Cambridge Books Online and University Publishing Online search functions. To limit your search on Cambridge Books Online and University Publishing Online to search only Case Reports select "Cambridge Law Reports" when entering your search terms.

> Home > Advanced Search

ADVANCED SEARCH

Please input search parameters in search fields. * Empty search fields will not be included in the search.
Cambridge Books Online	\square Cambridge Library Collection	☐ Cambridge Journals Online	Cambridge Law Reports
Limited to Your Access			V
Anything	▼	Contains	AND▼
Anything	•	Contains
Search Clear All Fewer Choices More Choices
Search Clear All Fewer Choices More Choices

Viewing a case

Your case will open with an HTML display. Navigate through it using the go to page/paragraph options.

An internal navigation panel displays on the left hand pane. This will allow you to navigate through the subjects, casehead, summary and judgments. From this pane you can also save the case to view later (access via the My Reports tab), or view the PDF.

Citations to International Law Reports or ICSID content has been linked so that you can navigate between these cases. You can view a list of all citations that have been linked within the case by selecting "display all citations". Clicking on a citation will open the cited case in a new window. Please note that ICSID content will be added to the site in 2015.

The Export Citation function allows you to download citations to your desktop or you can email them to a colleague.

To view other cases within the same print volume, select Volume Info for navigation.

Case display

Minimise the left hand pane to view the case full screen.

Click on an image in the text to enlarge the image.

Page breaks replicating our print volume structure display by default on the HTML view on this site. Footnotes appear on the same page as they would in print. You can hide page breaks using the navigation pane at the top of the page. Notes then appear at the end of the case. Select "Show page breaks" to reinstate the default view.

My Reports

The My Reports section allows you to view recent searches and cases that you have viewed. You must be logged in to use this function.

From the Recent History pane you can view and save recent searches and cases. Save these cases and searches on this page to permanently store a link in the My Reports section. A message will display when you log out if you have unsaved searches or cases in your recent history.

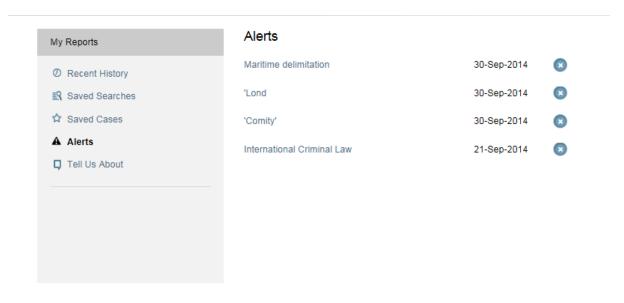

The Saved Cases page stores cases that you have saved for future reference. You can navigate to the HTML display by clicking on the case name, or open a PDF of the case from this view. Remove saved cases by selecting the x button.

The Saved Searches page lists searches that you have saved for future use. Run the search by selecting the search name, and this will search across all content including anything added to the site since you first created your search. You can create alerts based on your search criteria.

The Saved Alerts page allows you to access alerts you have saved. Open the alert to view the search results pane and adjust the criteria. Select "save alert" to save this new alert. You can also delete alerts on this page. See the alerts section below for more information.

The "Tell us about a decision" section allows you to notify our editors of a decision you would like to see included on Cambridge Law Reports in future. Please include all information available. Select "send a copy of this email to me" to receive a copy of the email.

Alerts

You can set up alerts from the Search Results and Browse pages. Select "Create Alert" on the left hand panel. Edit or remove alerts in the "My Reports" area. You must be logged in to use this function.

By saving an alert, you will be notified each time a new case that meets your criteria has published on Cambridge Law Reports. A single email notification will be sent detailing new content matching any of your alert criteria. Amend the name or criteria of your alerts in the My Reports section of the site. You must be registered to set up alerts.

You can also see a list of recent cases added to the site on the Cambridge Law Reports homepage.